

Introduced in 1994, the A4 is Audi's luxury sport sedan that fits between the smaller A3 and larger A6 sedans. The A4 is all-new for 2016 as a 2017 model. It comes standard with a 2.0-liter direct-injection turbocharged 4-cylinder engine and 7-speed dual-clutch transmission. Buyers have a choice of front-wheel drive or Audi's quattro® all-wheel-drive system. For performance buyers, Audi offers the S4 sedan that has a supercharged 3.0-liter V-6 engine, 7-speed dual-clutch automatic transmission and quattro all-wheel drive as standard equipment.

Even though the A4 is aimed at performance-sedan buyers, unless you get the expensive S4 model, it lacks many of the dynamic driving qualities that the TLX has. Plus, the TLX offers many advanced comfort and safety features that the A4 can't match.
